

Board Class 2027b

Putney Cloos

Putney Cloos is a marketing leader with deep expertise in data-driven B2B marketing. Most recently Putney was the Chief Marketing Officer at Cision. She also has held a variety of commercial marketing leadership positions at American Express and was an Associate Partner and Senior Expert at McKinsey & Company where she was recognized for her expertise in marketing and sales strategy. Putney currently serves as a strategic advisor to a number of venture-backed companies including Octane11. Putney is on the Board of Trustees of the Cathedral Church of St John the Divine in New York City and the chair of its Programs Committee. She is also on the Board of Directors of the Quissett Harbor Preservation Trust and a member of its Finance Committee. Putney has an AB in History from Harvard College and an MBA from the Kellogg School of Management. Ms. Cloos and her husband and their two sons live in Harlem and attend the Cathedral of St. John the Divine.

Paul Faeth

Mr. Paul Faeth is an expert in sustainable development with over forty years of international experience. He recently retired from Abt Global, a major implementing partner for USAID and other international environment and development agencies, where he was the Global Technical Director for Climate and Energy. He successfully led the launch of an effort expected to bring solar power to 10,000 health clinics in Africa that do not have electricity. He was formerly a principal of the Cadmus Group working on issues related to climate change, water, and energy, internationally and domestically and was Chair of the Jamaica Energy Resilience Alliance, working to invest up to $50 million in new distributed power in the country. Mr. Faeth was also the Executive Vice-President and Managing Director at the World Resources Institute. He has extensive experience in non-profit management, a major implementing partner for USAID and other U.S. and international environment and development agencies environmental research and management, economic and policy analysis and outreach, particularly in developing innovative policies that promote climate mitigation and water resources protection. Mr. Faeth has a BS degree in Agricultural Engineering and an MS in Resource Systems and Policy Design. He is married to The Rev. Dr. Margaret Ann (Sam) Faeth and lives in Asheville, NC.

The Rt. Rev. Héctor Monterroso

The Rt. Rev. Héctor Monterroso is the Bishop Assistant of the Diocese of Texas. Originally from Guatemala, he was ordained as a deacon in 1986 and as a priest in 1987. He was consecrated as the Bishop of Costa Rica on June 7, 2003, where he served as a Bishop Diocesan for 14 years. He and his wife, Sandra Cardona, have two grown children: María Beatriz, a geriatrician, and Héctor Ramón, a civil engineer. In July 2017, he moved to Houston to be part of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas. His current ministry includes the strengthening and growth of Hispanic congregations, new missional communities, and churches in the Diocese of Texas. He oversees the Southern Region of the Diocese, which includes 52 Churches and several development programs. He coordinates interfaith and ecumenical efforts, supports the process and development of a multicultural presence in the congregations of the Diocese, and promotes the call to Ordained Ministry, identifying vocational leaders within the local Hispanic ministry. During his free time, he practices soccer, basketball, and ping pong.